General Radislav Krsti?ko said by telephone that two bombs struck a Bosniak military camp north of Sarajevo on Sunday. He said a high-ranking officer died and two other people, a woman and a child, were wounded. “Whoever ordered this hit will pay for it,” Krsti?ko told Reuters, alluding to the United Nations. “I’m a soldier, I have my job to do.” The air strike came just days after the U.N. deployed two more Croats to the country to act as advisers to the Bosnian Serb-dominated peacekeeping force. The steps aimed to increase the overall strength of the 16,000-strong U.N. force in Bosnia to 8,000. The law took effect Saturday and comes amid a deadly crackdown on Rohingya by the Myanmar army. It bans the inter-ethnic movement of people designated as “out of bounds”, with immediate effect. The Home Ministry said it will seek to amend the Citizenship Act of 1983 to allow naturalisation of people who were born in Myanmar, but not those who came to India from Bangladesh after the two countries became independent in 1971. The new law criminalises the illegal movement of “outsiders” or “rejects” from Myanmar or Bangladesh who have entered India after Dec 25, 1971 and issued a new rule in the form of a gazette on Saturday. “With immediate effect, anyone of these groups who have been placed in any of the categories defined in section 3 of the Foreigners Act, 1946 (except diplomatic and
